HEARINGS IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

Ex-Mayor Glasmann and Frank Francis Fail to Defend Contempt Charges on Time.

BIG SUIT AGAINST R. G. W.

Impressive Obsèques Over Remains of Mrs. Olivia M. West—Mrs. Goodrich Gets Divorce.

Ogden, April 6.—District Judge Howell stated last evening that he will not hear the two contempt cases that are now pending in his court, as both of the defendants charge the defendants in the actions of being in contempt of his honor, hence he will ask some other judge to come to Ogden and hear the cases when they come up for trial.

In the contempt proceedings brought by Henry Wessler against District Attorney Halverson, charging the district attorney with being in contempt of court by not filing an information in the district court against Joseph Kendall within 30 days after the said Kendall was bound over to that court, Judge Howell appointed R. S. Farnsworth and County Attorney Huplanick to represent the prosecution.

In the contempt proceedings against William Glasmann and Frank Francis charged with having published in the Standard and Morning Examiner certain articles which it is alleged infringed the court and jury in the case of J. D. Seven against William Craig, to that extent that plaintiff was not given a fair chance in the proceedings, Judge Howell has appointed as attorneys to represent the prosecution C. C. Richards, J. N. Kimball and District Attorney Halverson.

At 5 o'clock last evening William Glasmann and Frank Francis, with their attorney, R. S. Farnsworth, appeared before Judge Howell, the court having issued an attachment which was placed in the hands of Sheriff Sebring for service on them, as they did not appear before his honor at 10 o'clock yesterday morning as they should have done on citation to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt. Attorney Farnsworth took all the blame upon himself for their failure to appear, stating that as a case was already on trial before his honor he did not think the court would want to take up the proceedings against the defendants on the citation, and Mr. Glasmann was in Salt Lake as witness in an important case, and he had asked the deputy clerk to let him know if the case was called and he would immediately appear, and having received no such report, he did not appear for the defendants.

Judge Howell stated he did not desire to punish the defendants for their failure to appear at 10 a. m., if they had had a misapprehension of the court's orders. Mr. Farnsworth moved for a dismissal of the proceedings, on the grounds that the affidavits upon which said order of citation is based do not state facts sufficient to authorize the court to issue any such order or to give the court jurisdiction in the premises. The court granted the filing of the motion but did not act on the same as the attorney desired to present authorities on his contention, and Judge Howell desires that some other judge shall hear the entire proceeding. Therefore a further hearing of the case was continued without date.

The damage suit of A. I. Stone against the Union Pacific is progressing very slowly. Only two witnesses were examined yesterday, and their testimony was pertaining to the general method employed by the company in running their trains, and the rules governing employees.

A $20,000 damage suit has been prepared for filing in the district court by John Smalley, as guardian ad litem, of his four-year-old son, Albert Smalley, against the Denver & Rio Grande Railway company, alleged to be due for the loss of the little boy's leg.

The complaint charges that Nov. 23, 1905, the small child with other children, was playing in the freight yards of the company in this city. That a switching crew in switching a freight car from one track to another, turned one of the cars loose on the track to be coupled with other cars, that in some manner the child's foot and leg were caught under the wheels and so severely crushed that the leg had to be amputated just below the knee.

The accident occurred according to the complaint through the negligence of the railroad company in not having some one on the car to protect the public from being struck by the same, that the company should have had a fence or some other obstruction bounding its property so that the children could not have entered the yard.

FUNERAL OF MRS. WEST.
All that was mortal of Mrs. Olivia M. West, wife of Frederick West, who died April 2, aged 30 years, was laid peacefully to rest in the family burial plot in the Ogden City cemetery yesterday, Bishop Robert McQuarrie dedicating the grave. Impressive funeral services over her remains were held at the Second ward meetinghouse at 2 o'clock. Bishop McQuarrie presided at the services. The ward choir rendered several selections. Elders Moroni H. Thomas, H. C. Jacobs, Joseph Hall and Bishop McQuarrie spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing family and eulogized the many noble traits of true motherhood and goodness possessed by the deceased.

The services were well attended by sympathizing friends and a wealth of floral tributes covered the grave.

MRS. GOODRICH GETS DIVORCE.
The divorce case of Georgia A. Goodrich against Charles W. Goodrich was heard by Judge Howell. The testimony of the wife and other witnesses went to show that the couple were married in Polk county, Missouri, Sept. 26, 1899; that the husband without cause deserted his wife, and has failed to provide her with the necessities of life. The plaintiff was named as the decree and restored to her maiden name, Georgia A. Lwin.

Little Danger of Strike Among Miners—Few Only Belong to Union.

Special Correspondence.
Rock Springs, Wyo., April 4.—There is little danger of a strike of the miners in this state. There are very few union men working in the coal mines, and the wages paid are in the main satisfactory. All mines are working full time, and all could employ more men if the miners could be obtained.

Karr, a fellow employee on the 26th of March by cutting a terrible gash in his throat with a razor. Karr was brought to the Provo general hospital and has recovered sufficiently to leave the institution. Collier is said to have gone to Salt Lake. The officers, however, got the idea that that the cutting was done in self-defense and that he did nothing about it. But later reports are to the effect that it was an unjustifiable murderous assault, and if Collier is arrested a court and jury will have to decide whether it was self-defense or an assault with intent to commit murder.

CARDSTON, CANADA
DEATH OF MRS. A. D. FOLSON.

A Big Year for Farmers—Conference Visitors—Wedding.
Special Correspondence.

Cardston, Alberta, Canada, March 23.—The many friends and relatives of Mrs. Annie Draper Folsom will be pained to learn of her death on Tuesday last from pneumonia, following the birth of twin babies, one of whom passed away a day or two previous to the demise of the young mother.

Farming operations are in full blast now. All indications point to the increased acreage of all classes of products and a vast increase in the preparation of new lands for fall wheat. The position occupied by southern Alberta is decidedly enviable when winter wheat and vegetables are considered.

The record held so far is 23 bushels per acre of "Alberta Red" averaging 45 pounds to the bushel, government test. As an evidence of the faith held by capitalists in the new province, one company erected 23 elevators last year, while it has planned for 29 more this season in addition to the construction of a 300,000 bushel terminal elevator at Calgary and extensive preparations for a massive terminal on the water front at Vancouver. This is, at least, a good assurance for the future of such a vast undeveloped country.
